

Thames Tideway Tunnel London

Role

Quod is acting as strategic planning adviser to Thames Water for the Thames Tideway Tunnel DCO application, which is the largest DCO application yet to be made and examined by PINS. Quod also provided expert witness evidence to the examination and detailed advice on the draft DCO documentation.

Quod was closely involved with the preparation of a number of the DCO documents and has provided strategic advice on site selection and mitigation strategies. Quod's role has included a strategic review of key decision making and project documents; managing the preparation of 22 Planning Statements for each of the project sites; preparing the main strategic Planning Statement and undertaking a review of the entire application in order to generate a robust set of requirements, where those are necessary to secure the integrity of the Environmental Statement.
